The city's Urban Redevelopment Plan will be a strategic framework designed to revitalize and enhance downtown and nearby areas, addressing issues such as blight, decay, and outdated infrastructure. It will involve an assessment of existing conditions, community input, and collaboration between government agencies, private stakeholders, and residents. The plan aims to stimulate economic growth, improve housing options, and create a vibrant, sustainable downtown environment. Implementation may include zoning changes, infrastructure upgrades, and incentives to attract investment and development.
